FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

AMONG the legends of fairy lore is one of a nut, which if found and cracked at the right time by the right person, will reveal a diamond.

Nine months ago, December 12th, 1870, the first organized movement toward a "Women's Christian Association of Philadelphia" was made by a few earnest women, whose minds were directed to the subject by H. Thane Miller, Esq., of Cincinnati, John Wanamaker, Esq., and others.

The arduous work attendant upon the formation of a new society occupied about a month. During the month of January the meetings were visited by two prominent members of flourishing societies in neighboring cities. The question under discussion being, "How shall we, small in number and inexperienced, proceed to establish our Boarding House, apparently our greatest present need?" they begged to offer the following suggestions, drawn from the experience of their own societies: "Select a suitable building, ladies, and purchase. Do not wait for the money; it will come. Secure your house, furnish, open and fill it; you will find it the strongest appeal that can be made. Your work is noble, and the ground for faith sure. Go forward with strong faith in prayer, and you cannot fail." The nut was cracked at the right time. At subsequent meetings eloquent appeals and references to the work of other societies were made by our own managers. In less than six months our House, neatly and comfortably furnished, was opened free of debt; and at the end of three additional months, we found it containing forty happy inmates, being filled to its utmost capacity, and self supporting. We speak of this, not in the spirit of self gratulation, but for the encouragement of many of our more timid sister societies in other cities.

Fully realizing that no success is attained without great earnestness, the members of the executive and various other committees have been indefatigable in their attendance upon the weekly committee meetings. Ladies whose summer residences were distant from the city, spent here two, sometimes more, days of each week, that the interests committed to their especial care should not be neglected.

Looking back upon what has been accomplished in so short a time, with so little experience and preparation, as step by step, tremblingly yet confidently we went forward, we feel our progress has been beyond our most sanguine expectations; but as synthesis comes before analysis in God's order, and practice before theory, so we realize that our success, under God, is owing to each one's doing promptly and to her best ability, the work allotted to her.

A few extracts from the minutes of the monthly meetings will give some idea of the progress of the work.

January 11, 1871.—On motion, decided that the Building Committee be instructed to select and secure a house at once, relying on Divine aid for means. A lady present immediately subscribed five hundred dollars; this was responded to by six hundred and fifty additional. The meeting then adjourned, all feeling the occasion had been one of deep interest.

January 25, 1871.—Chairman of Building Committee reported that the refusal had been obtained of a house on Filbert Street, which seemed very suitable for the desired purpose. After some deliberation it was decided to purchase at the cost of $10,500, subject to an irredeemable ground-rent of $1800.

February 8, 1871.—The purchase of the house was reported by the Building Committee; also, that after consultation with a number of builders, the following alterations were recommended:—That additions be made to the back buildings by extending them fourteen feet, and raising the entire building to four stories, thus giving accommodations to sixteen additional boarders. A crude estimate of the expense placed it at $3200; with favorable weather it could be finished in six weeks. These suggestions met the approval of the Managers, who after authorizing the Committee to proceed without delay, agreed to raise the necessary fund.

March 8, 1871.—Treasurer reported receipts amounting to $5923; expenditures, $2276 27. Thus far we were more than meeting our liabilities. After singing the doxology the meeting adjourned.

April 12, 1871.—An appeal was made by the President for contributions toward furnishing the house, which was promptly responded to by pledges for every room by different churches throughout the city, with two exceptions—one being pledged by the pupils of Misses Kutz and Latta's school, and the sick room by Mrs. Jewett, of Ohio.

May 12, 1871.—Treasurer reported receipts, $7076 08; expenditures, $1590—leaving a balance of $5486 08. The large amount of receipts during this month was owing to a contribution of $5000 from Wm. Bucknell, Esq., as a memorial to his deceased wife.

June 14, 1871.—Chairman of Building Committee reported that the house, according to contract, was finished, and placed in the hands of the Committee June 1st.

Owing to changes in the plan of alterations, extending back sixteen feet instead of fourteen feet, and repairs in the front building, the cost amounted to over $5000, and the contract was extended to June 1st. Valuable services as advisors were rendered by Mr. Wm. Burr and Mr. Benj. Price, the latter as architect, donating one half of his bill to the association. The builder, Mr. Samuel R. Richards, was also exceedingly accommodating, cheerfully making numerous little repairs and alterations not included in the contract.

Furnishing and Supply Committee reported that through the liberality of different churches and individuals, the house was furnished and ready for occupancy.

Can we not with such a record, say that He in whom we trusted, in whose hand is the silver and gold, opened the hearts and made the hands of his servants willing to help in the emergency.

Like the turning of the eye away from the dust and vapors of earth to the clear shining of the stars, so will the weary soul turn from the remembrance of worldly thoughts and deeds to the promise, "As ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

We rejoice in our beautifully yet modestly furnished boarding house, and in the comfort and happiness of its inmates, who appear to appreciate the Christian love and sympathy that suggested it.

How frequently is the uncultured soil of a young, innocent heart converted by hardship and neglect into a barren waste, affording an inviting field for a rank growth of irreligion and sin. Our aim is, with the sunshine of love and sweet south wind of sympathy to transform these waste places into fruitful gardens for our Lord.

In the scentless flowers of the field we have the origin of the garden exotics, whose beauty thrills us, and whose subtle fragrance fills us with delight ; not to one who walks with careless eye through woods and fields, but to the minute inquirer will the inherent beauty of every flower that blows be unveiled, and the peculiarity of structure that fits it for its destined place and purpose. In the private Committee Box, to which access is had only by the few ladies appointed for the purpose, cares, perplexities and sorrows have been exchanged for words of sympathy, advice and loving counsel.

Family worship is conducted daily in the Boarding House. Inmates are expected to attend divine service once on Sabbath ; a more frequent attendance is recommended. Our object is to exert a Christian influence, yet to leave to those influenced that freedom of thought and action that best tends to a true development of noble character.

"The wicked boasteth of his heart's desire. Under his tongue are mischief and vanity. He sitteth in lurking places of the villages ; in the secret places doth he murder the innocent ; his eyes are privily set against the poor ; he lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den—he doth catch the poor when he draweth him into his net. He croucheth and humbleth himself that the poor may fall by his strong ones.”

A few weeks after the opening of our Boarding House application for admission was made for a young girl, seventeen years old, who had left her home in the interior of Pennsylvania to seek her living in the city. Our Employment Committee was not then fully organized, but through a friend she obtained employment as machine operator. At the end of a few weeks the offensively free manner of her employer obliged her to give up her situation, and she accepted a position as book agent. Her manners and appearance were prepossessing; she was accosted on the street by the manager of an establishment needless to mention, who, after commenting on the value and uncommon beauty of her hair, offered her tickets of admission to his place of entertainment, and every possible inducement to become an employee until fit for an actress. Perplexed and distressed she returned to the boarding house; her nervousness and want of appetite at the tea table were observed by her friend and confidante, who was an earnest Christian. She saw her danger, and writing to a lady of wealth and benevolence in the State of New York, received the reply, “Send the girl to me.” She is now preparing for a teacher.

The vast mountain of wickedness casts its dark shadows all around us, but

“The small continual creeping of the silent footsteps of the sea

Mineth the wall of adamant, and stealthily compasseth its ruin.”

Our Employment Committee is witnessing daily the necessity for the immediate establishment of training schools for young girls. Much of the want and suffering among this class is owing to the fact that unskilled labor is a drug in the market; with an opportunity to fit themselves for a trade or profession they would be under no necessity to seek employment as a charity. A number of situations have been obtained for worthy applicants—two as household help in respectable families. One other case deserves especial notice. It is that of a young Englishwoman who accompanied her husband to this country several months ago, and with him sought in vain for employment in Boston and New York. Coming to Philadelphia she was directed by the "Young Men's Christian Association," to whom her husband had applied, to our Association. Money was advanced to prevent their being turned into the street, and being found fully competent she was offered, and gladly accepted, a situation as milliner's assistant, at $10 per week.

As one who stands upon a promontory looking over a boundless expanse of ocean, with a busy city at his back and a bright sky overhead, so do we see our work in its vast proportions spread out before us, look back with pleasure upon that already accomplished, and with eyes turned heavenward, behold spanning all, the rainbow of hope.

A building suitably located for a Restaurant, Temporary Lodging Rooms, accommodation for our Employment Committee, and an Association Hall, is our present aim. Diligent inquiries have revealed the fact that a large majority of girls employed as saleswomen or in manufactories partake of nothing but a slight lunch from breakfast until supper, frequently not even that. One of our officers, standing near the counter of a large retail dry goods store, overheard the following conversation: "What are you going to have for dinner?" "A couple of doughnuts," was the answer. "I cannot afford to get any," replied another. "Nor I," said the third; "and I came away in such a hurry this morning that I had time only to drink a cup of coffee."

We earnestly desire to be able before the biting cold of the approaching winter months, to furnish a warm comfortable meal at a rate within their scanty means.

A case that occurred some time before our boarding house was opened, will show the necessity for temporary lodging rooms: A lady residing in this city was returning with her husband in the evening train from New York. Two young girls entered the cars at one of the way stations; the thoughtless, giddy conduct of one attracted the attention of a man seated in front of them, and he entered into conversation with her, to the evident disapproval of her more staid companion. As they were crossing to Walnut street wharf, the latter by her manner in keeping close to the lady's side, seemed to seek protection or advice. At length she said to her, "Are you a stranger in the city?" "Oh, yes, ma'am!" she replied, with evident relief; "my friend and I have come to seek employment. I did not know it would be so late when we reached the city, and we have no place to go for the night; she is going somewhere with that man, but I cannot go with them." She was taken to a respectable hotel near, given in charge of the landlord, and her lodging for the night paid. It is for such cases, occurring daily, that our lodging rooms and employment committee are needed.

Shall we not have the sympathy and co-operation of every Christian woman in the community, when the still sad music of humanity is thus sounding in our ears? Shall we be forced, through want of means, to stand idly by while thousands cry aloud for help, or to drive unaided from the door those who flock to us for succor?

In the words of another: Here at our very doors open great avenues through which we may walk like ministering angels, speaking good words, doing noble, womanly deeds, which shall be like good gifts of frankincense and of myrrh, pleasant and acceptable in the sight of God the Father.

Love, sympathy, zeal, practical sagacity, good common sense, and personal piety are needed for our work; but the beginning and end of this work is love, Christ-like love. Thus only can we fulfil the two great commandments: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these."
